MISSION

"To create a business friendly environment with simplified procedures and improved infrastructures so as to encourage innovative entrepreneurial skills fostering competitive industrial growth and investment, thereby creating employment opportunities and enhancing the State's economic status resulting in better living standards"

1. INTRODUCTION

Nagaland is the 16th State of the Indian union. It is located in the North East part of country and falls within the consortium of the 8 (eight) North Eastern Sister States. It is one among the smaller states of the country with a total land area of 16,579 sq.km and a population of 1,980,602 as per 2011 Census of India. Apart from stretches of plain areas along its foothill bordering Assam, the topography of the rest of the state comprises of lush green hills and mountains covered with dense evergreen forest and a wide variety of flora and fauna. Climate is a monsoonal climate with annual rainfall averaging between 70 and 100 inches (1,800 and 2,500 mm). Agriculture and allied activities are the main occupations with over 70% of the population engaged in them. Favourable agro-climate and geophysical conditions nurtures varieties of organic sub-tropical & temperate fruits & vegetables. Literacy level at 79.55% is higher than the national average and has created a huge reservoir of English speaking youthful workforce.

Nagaland shares 215km. of international border with Myanmar. Due to its strategic location, the state has multi-faceted potentials to harness. The strategic importance was amply demonstrated in the historic 'Battle of Kohima', which changed the tide of World War II. This battle was fought fiercely to control the Moreh-Imphal-Kohima-Dimapur road that opens up South East Asia to the plains of India. Today, in the context of emerging global market economy, the strategic importance has only grown.

Nagaland has made tremendous progress since its statehood in 1963. With major reforms in fiscal management, personnel policies and institutional structure, Nagaland has emerged as a prominent reforming state in India. Torch bearing institutional reforms such as communitization of elementary education, rural healthcare, power distribution and water supply stands out. Communitization connotes giving ownership to the people who are the actual beneficiaries and stakeholders, the power and responsibilities in the management of public institutions and services at the grass root level.

Industrial infrastructures and land banks available in various districts includes Industrial Growth Centre in Ganeshnagar, Agro& Food Processing Special Economic Zone (AFSEZ) at Ganeshnagar, New Industrial Estate and Old Industrial Estate in Dimapur, Industrial Infrastructure Development Centre (IIDC) at Kiruphema and Tuli, Border Trade Centres (BTCs) at Longwa in Mon, Avangkhu in Meluri, Pangsha in Noklak, Toluvi Industrial Park in Dimapur. The State has 4 products with GI tag products viz- Naga King Chilly, Naga Sweet Cucumber, Chakhesang Shawl, Naga Tree Tomato. Dimapur Airport is cargo enabled; Kisan Rail and Krishi UDAN are in the pipeline to make it operational in Dimapur.

Five decades of statehood and development with given potentials and reforms, however, has not ushered in the much desired growth in the commerce and industrial sector. The contribution of the industrial sector to the Gross State Domestic Product continues to remain low due to slow rate of growth of industry and Commerce. With the view and objective therefore, to revitalize the growth of the Trade, Commerce and Industry in the State, a new policy encompassing Trade, Investment and Industrial development is therefore formulated to replace the two decade old State Industrial Policy 2000 with the nomenclature "Nagaland Trade, Investment and Industrial Policy 2025".
